

ODOUR MANAGEMENT MADE EASY

Effective, long-lasting solutions for your high-profile business

Unpleasant odours can ruin your brand experience. In fact, 93 percent of people say that a foul odour would negatively impact their perception of a business – and many associate odours with poor cleanliness.

Managing odours from trash areas, soiled linen rooms, and high-traffic areas reduces disruption in your business, minimizing complaints, absenteeism, and loss of revenue. However, many off-the-shelf products use heavy masking agents or perfumes that don't get to the source of the issue and only contribute to the problem.

Create the odour-free experience your customers and employees deserve with GENIE Max from Rentokil. This science-backed system neutralizes unpleasant odours at the molecular level to eliminate them for good.
